

DON'T ROCK the ROOST

A PROJECT FOR BOTH PEOPLE AND NATURE
 This restoration supports both wildlife and the local economy. Please protect these investments by following No Wake Zones, staying out of sensitive habitats, and observing posted signs, so both people and nature can thrive. Learn more at nature.org/perdidoislands.

No pets are allowed on any island!

LEGEND

- Habitat Protection Area
- No Beaching of Boats
- Recreation Area
- Seagrass
- No Motor Zone
- No Wake Zone
- Safe Operating Speed

Scan for Interactive Map
 The Nature Conservancy has partnered with Argo to help boaters safely navigate the area.

PERDIDO PASS

DON'T ROCK the ROOST

The Nature Conservancy

RESTORATION TAKES TIME

Scan for more information

Before restoration, these islands were impacted by the Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill and erosion. More than 200,000 plants were installed to stabilize the islands. While it may look bare now, nature will do the rest as the plants will naturally fill in over time with help from birds and other animals. You can help by avoiding planted areas highlighted on the map.